BATTLE WITH U-BOATS?

No Explanation is Obtainable Although It May be an Exchange of Salutes—Submarine Operating Off Coast.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington, April 18.—A report from the Cape Cod coast guard stations forwarded to the navy by Boston naval district commander says there was heavy "gunning" this morning at sea north of the station. Heavy guns were heard. No explanation of the firing was obtainable when the report was transmitted.

Three coast guard stations in the Cape Cod region joined in a report saying the firing was heard at 9 o'clock this morning. All agreed the sound indicated the use of heavy guns fired in rapid succession.

Saw U-Boat Periscope.
The periscope of a submarine running submerged was spotted by the deck officer and quartermaster of the destroyer Smith early yesterday morning, just before the wave of a torpedo was seen crossing the destroyer's bows.

This information was contained in a radio report from the commander of the Smith received at the navy department today.

Naval officials say this confirms reports of the presence of German submarines in American waters. The officer on watch reported the periscope was distinctly visible at a distance of 800 yards from the ship. The quartermaster and members of the gun crew agreed in this respect.

The report from officers said the periscope was moving on a course parallel to that of the destroyer. The latter crossed the bows of the Smith at a distance of thirty yards, as reported yesterday and today's statement as all of the men reported ship who saw it, were experienced torpedo men.

Report Heavy Firing.
Boston, April 18.—Three coast guard stations at Race Point, Pease Island, and High Head, reported that they heard heavy guns being fired at 9:15 a. m. today, north of the station in quick succession. These stations are off Provincetown.

Stations No. 12 and 37 reported that at 9:15 a. m. they heard heavy guns being fired at fifteen minute intervals, fifteen more were heard.

Exchange of Salutes?
Provincetown, Mass., April 18.—Heavy firing was heard off the tip of Cape Cod today. The regulation of the shots lead to suggestion it might have been an exchange of salutes by naval vessels, although it was stated vessels on active war duty are not permitted thus to reveal their positions.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

DRIVE WINS HIGH GROUND FOR FRENCH

COMMANDING POSITIONS CONSIDERED IMPREGNABLE CAPTURED IN THE LATEST FRENCH ADVANCE.

SLAUGHTER IS AWFUL

Bloodshed in Terrific Assaults on Soissons Line Equals That of Early Battles of the War.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Paris, April 18.—The great western battlefront was extended twelve miles today, when the French drove the Germans from all of their first line positions and part of their second line from Rheims to the Champagne front. The victory was staged on a front of 19 1/2 miles, the greatest offensive of 1915 and the German loss is estimated at 30,000 killed, wounded and prisoners.

The invaders were excellently well placed along a series of wooded heights, varying in height from 600 to 800 feet and running north along the main road from Rheims to St. Hilaire-le-Grand. The Germans were well aware that the attack was coming and had made full preparation for it. The French attack, however, was delivered with such skill and vigor that the defenders, disheartened by long and furious preliminary bombardment, broken down after resistance by 300 yards of the whole line fell into French hands. South of Moronvilliers, the impetus of the attackers carried them clean through the first line and the second line system, which was centered at Mount Haut. This summit, 850 feet high, was stormed. In the meantime, on the Soissons-Rheims front, the French groups were busy organizing the captured ground and in the first day of the battle, and repulsing force counter attacks. Over their heads, a storm of artillery fire was preparing the way for another drive against the Germans in the position to which they retired yesterday.

Progress Last Night.
Important progress was made last night by the French in their attack west of Soissons. The war office announced the capture of Chavonne and Chivy. The French pushed on north of these points, reaching the vicinity of Graye-en-Laonnois.

The Germans made three desperate counter attacks in Chavonne last night. They were checked by the French, who inflicted heavy losses on the attacking troops. Since Monday the French have captured upwards of 10,000 unarmored Germans. In the Champagne large numbers have been captured and large numbers have been captured and large numbers have been captured.

Is Important Success.
The latest French victory, while on a smaller scale than that of Monday, is an equally important one. It shows the German position attacked had been left alone on account of the exceptional natural strength of the German positions. The French counter attack was provided for by only a few machine guns and a few machine guns. The French had nothing to do but follow instructions to the letter. As soon as the result of the battle, the French were given to attack. Punctually at 4:45 the French infantry "went over" well supported by a powerful mass of artillery fire. The French passed the line in both line and in the center. The French were carrying the score. They seized Mount Carnelet, Mount Haut and all crests commanding the region. Took impregnable positions.

From the new positions, the French now look down upon Moronvilliers and Hailly. This Moronvilliers chain of hills was regarded by all French soldiers as inviolable. It was in the section as virtually impregnable and its capture caused the liveliest satisfaction to everybody. The 75's followed up the infantry and fought large bodies of the enemy passing with the object of making a diversion and decimated them, according to onlookers. Such a charge had been seen since the action of Charny Gap at the beginning of the war.

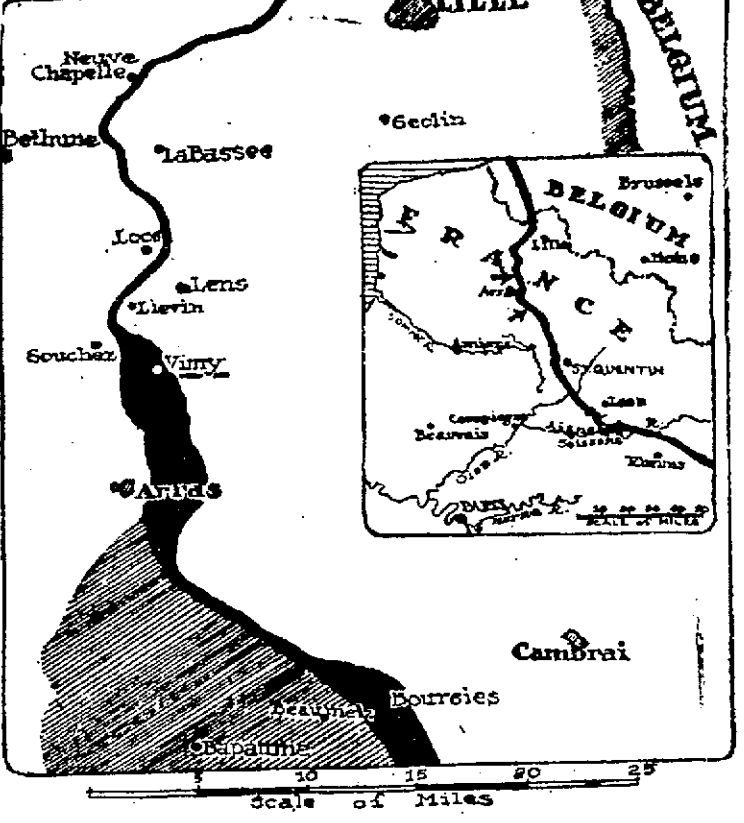

On the right wing the struggle was equally to the advantage of the French. The Auberive on which the left wing of the Champagne offensive of 1916 broke, fell speedily as well as all the surrounding works. The French made especially good progress north of Auberive.

In the action east of Vaudesin Court Hill the French stormed as well as a small French machine gun. As a nest of German machine guns. At certain points the advance was close upon four miles on depths. The latest news reaching Paris says the battle continued well into the night, the Germans counter-attacks without success and the French reconstructing French systems under cover of artillery fire.

Spill Hindenburg's Plans.
According to information from a reliable source, the double offensive of the British in the north of Arras and of the French on the Aisne disarranged the German plan. Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, it was declared, was pining for an offensive against Riga and the other side of the Baltic. The German front he was considering an attempt of Calais on one hand, and Paris on the other. The allied western offensive spoiled all his plans by obliging him to bring back a large part of his forces intended for the Russian and Italian fronts.

British Also Active.
London, April 18.—The British have made further progress north of St. Quentin and captured the village of Quinville-Guislain, according to an official statement today by the war office. During the night, we made further progress southeast and east of Eperhey and this morning captured the village of Villers-Guislain with our prisoners. We also improved our position in the neighborhood of Langzou. Elsewhere there is nothing to report.

PROVINCIAL PAPERS SHOW PEACE HOPES OF GERMAN PEOPLE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
The Hague, April 17, via London, April 18.—How urgent is the yearning for peace among German people and how great is the desire for a better food supply, may be judged by the editorial comments published in the provincial newspapers on the inauguration of the current of the bread supply.

The Courier of Hanover, for example, represents that a quicker bread supply would lead to a better food supply. The people are told Great Britain, France, Italy and even the United States are reckoning with a world famine for the current year and that in case of a premature conclusion of peace, the demands of these countries for their own needs, would prevent supplying Germany with foreign food stuffs.

The Courier portrays the British people as paying the highest prices of a century, and declares that the Germans are situated more favorably than those who planned to starve them, not being menaced by a bad world crop, and rapidly sinking ship tonnage.

However, the blockade of Germany should succeed through lack of economy, the newspaper says, "our people would not only have a time of bitter hunger, but a time of most painful inactivity."

Then, the paper continues, "while France, Italy and Russia carried off Alsace, Lorraine and big Austria-Hungarian provinces as the price of victory, Great Britain would under take the despised annexation of the German colonies. Rent would be dear and wages low for our entire laboring population. We must, therefore, with all our strength, clutch our throats, remembering the sacrifices and suffering of our men in the field, take up this new food sacrifice."

URGES BILL TO PROVIDE DRAFT ARMY

PRESIDENT DEMANDS SELECTIVE CONSCRIPTION DESPITE OPPOSITION OF HOUSE COMMITTEE.

SENATE IS FAVORABLE

Wilson Confers With Leaders of House and Senate to Secure Immediate Action on Preparedness Measures.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington, April 18.—Opponents of the selective conscription plan got the upper hand in the house military committee today, voting 12 to 8 to have the new army bill carry provision to first try to raise the new force by volunteers.

Bill Ready for Senate.
The administration bill to raise a big army mainly by selective conscription, was ready to be reported to the senate today by the military committee. All the forces of the administration will be employed to urge its early passage in both houses. The president and his advisors regard further delay in passing the bill as threatening a serious handicap in the war with Germany.

President Wilson went to the capitol today for a conference with congressional leaders on the administration army bill and other measures.

Push War Measures.
President Wilson concentrated his attention today on the army bill, the espionage bill, the rivers and harbors bill, containing provisions for necessary preparedness work in harbors, and several other measures bearing on the war. The force of the administration bill will be turned first on passage of the army bill, with its selective conscription provisions in the senate.

Once the senate has adopted the bill, the administration leaders think it will be easier to get favorable action by the house. Indications today were that many congressmen opposing it are ready now to vote for it.

Confers With Leaders.
The president conferred today with Chairman Simmons of the senate finance committee, Chairman Fitzgerald of the house appropriations committee, and Senator Overman and House Speaker Smith. He asked for cooperation of all in speedy action of the administration war bills.

Mr. Wilson has told sign a river and houses bill unless it is without political provision and unless it makes provision for defense harbor work desired by the war department.

War Credit Voted.
The largest single war credit in history will be at the disposal of the administration as soon as the house approves the bill. The measure provides for a billion dollar war revenue bill. This may be today. The measure passed the senate last night by a unanimous vote.

Opposes War Committee.
In an interview with senators at Capital today President Wilson opposed a joint committee on conduct of the war was proposed by Senator Weeks.

The bill permitting allies to recruit their citizens in United States was passed today by the senate by unanimous consent and sent to the house to await action there.

A WORLD FEDERATION IS U. S. AIM IN WAR

PROF. CARL RUSSELL FISH AD- DRESSES TWILIGHT CLUB ON AMERICA'S RELATION TO CONFLICT.

RINGS TRUE TO POLICY

Nation's Traditions of Perfecting an Example in Democracy and of Federalism Will Place Stamp on Europe.

"We cannot live with a nation in the world which says that international law must yield to national necessity. Germany must recognize that there is a world law and when Germany does the United States will mean that she will be represented at the peace negotiations. We are the only nation which has worked out a federal system and it is for the other nations to profit by our experience. If this war is to be constructive it depends on the United States of America to make it so."

Professor Carl Russell Fish, head of the American history department at the University of Wisconsin, summed up in this fashion the relation of America to the world at the annual dinner Tuesday evening at the Twilight Club at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. In a scholarly discourse he gave a glimpse of the many purposes of American political institutions as related to other nations and he made plain the fact that there had been no change since the founding of the republic, back in the seventeenth century, in the certain unity of thought and consistency of policy in the diplomacy of the United States.

Policy Early Formulated.
At the outset the band of reformers who composed the early colonies determined to work out their utopian ideals of government unrestricted by outside interference with the hope of proving to the rest of the world the value and their utility and to reach by value and example rather than by force by might of arms. It was the purpose of the American nation from the beginning to remain outside of the "great game of balance" which kept Europe in a continual state of uncertainty, and to work out our own salvation in our own way, unhampered by foreign influences. This principle, by foreign influence, found expression in the Monroe doctrine as formulated by John Quincy Adams in response to the manifesto of the czar of Russia, that the United States was the only correct principle for the government of nations and that it ought to be adopted by all nations and all peoples.

This policy of "live and let live" thus established by the United States, must not be construed that this nation was living for itself alone. Prof. Fish emphasized. The United States would not meddle and would not be this attitude insisted and continually stood for the development of international law, a code which shall govern the relations of all nations. This country has always been internationally minded, and deep in the consciousness of the people, permeating the government and the diplomacy was the feeling that the world would some day come to accept democracy and would give up the divine right idea of kingship.

Nation No Longer Isolated.
Prof. Fish pointed out what President Wilson has truthfully said, that the world is now becoming too good for the United States to remain alone and isolated. When it finds that those principles of international law which it has championed and stood for in the face of opposition, are now being accepted by the world, the nation need by an authority, the time has come for it to take the position which it should hold in world affairs.

The reason for the success of American diplomacy, said Prof. Fish, has been in the fact that it has been largely linked up with public opinion and that the people have been acquainted with the aims and intentions. The people of Europe, even the people of Germany, are coming to realize that secret diplomacy is vanishing and its doom is other important factor in the relation of the United States to the world war. Prof. Fish declared, was found in the American tradition of freedom. Early in their history the colonies avoided physical friction. The live and let live spirit predominated and they found a way of cooperating with their neighbors. Matters of general import concerned, and this was the essence of federalism. This doctrine of federalism, was the doctrine mentioned by the president in his recent address to the senate, it is the doctrine which the United States proposes as a solution for wars and all international difficulties. It is a system based upon the supremacy of the law, and the United States already has a statute book of some seven hundred pages on international law. Our experience has been, however, that to enforce it, a vital factor which must be worked out in the American theory for a federalization of the world.

Most Delightful Function.
The banquet was most successful from a social standpoint. The attendance was large and every item of the entertainment was faultless. The tables were resplendent with pots of beautiful tulips, a pink carnation at each cover, and two large rose bushes flanking the speaker's table. The walls were hung with American flags.

The following delectable menu, prepared under the direction of Mrs. Louise Bowerman, was served by an efficient corps of young women and boys:

Southern Baked Ham
Cucumber and Horseradish Sauce
New Potatoes in Cream With Egg
Fresh Mushrooms and Asparagus
Tips on Toast
Parker House Rolls
Pickles
Twilight Club Special Salad
Kiss Ice Cream
Candies
Coffee
M. G. Jeffris presided as a most acceptable toastmaster. The musical numbers consisted of a patriotic medley by the men's chorus under the direction of C. R. Bearmore, and several solo selections by Miss Manilla Powers, whose delightful rendition met with a most enthusiastic approval. The entire company sang "America" to close the program.
The committee in charge of the banquet to whom credit is due for its complete success, was composed of H. M. Craig, Edward Amerpon, Roger Cunningham, H. H. Bliss, and F. S. Sheldon.

AGRICULTURAL and GARDEN DEPT

ALLEN B. WEST, Director

Question: I find that my pasture is badly winter killed and I am likely to have a short pasture for my stock this summer. Is there something I can do to feed during the summer?

Answer:—Yes, there are a number of things you can do. One is to sow a wintering crop from which you can choose to help out the situation, which is quite common this year. Any farmer who does not have a wintering crop of some kind, even if his pasture is in good condition, in order to provide for the drought which is almost sure to come in midsummer. Many dairymen also find it expedient to have a wintering crop of some kind, even if the pasture is in good condition, in order to provide for the drought which is almost sure to come in midsummer. Question: I bought a farm, of which I have taken possession this spring. There is no fall plowing and I am anxious to get my barley in as soon as possible. In Kansas, where I have lived, farmers sow their grain without plowing, by preparing the ground with the disk. Would you recommend that there, on corn ground where the corn was not cut, but left standing in the field? F. E. Answer: This is often done here. The land is first dragged to break up the stalks and then disked thoroughly.

J. W. Shirley, an Indiana man, has an interesting article in the Wisconsin Farmer of March 29 of this year, in which he describes his experience with the disk. He used a disk on a field of standing cornstalks without breaking, raking or burning any of them. He doubled-disked the ground each way to keep it from riding, and soon had a fine seed bed on which he sowed alfalfa. He describes his disk as "old, cold clay land." He also disked corn ground. He says, "I never had a better seed bed." The ground he had a better seed bed. The ground he had a better seed bed.

The soy beans will grow on all kinds of ordinary, well-drained soil and they stand dry weather better than clover and will grow well on soils that are somewhat acid. As a rule they should be planted about July 10 to 15, but in such cases as sandy soils, on which to obtain the best results should be inoculated. On rich soil little or no difference is noted in the plants, but in such cases as sandy soils, on which to obtain the best results should be inoculated. Japanese Lovers TRY DOUBLE SUICIDE
Tokio, April 18.—Japanese society is stirred by a case of double suicide affecting the family of Count Akimasa Yoshikawa, vice-president of the Privy Council. His daughter, Mrs. Kwami Yoshikawa and Rikisuke Karamochi, her chauffeur, are alleged to have sought death in the path of a railroad train. The chauffeur threw the woman on the tracks, but evidently intending to carry out his intention of following her, instead he drew a short sword, slashed her throat and died a few moments later. Mrs. Yoshikawa was tossed from the rails by the engine. Her condition was pronounced critical.

Studebaker Series "18" Cars

Both FOUR and SIX are equipped with the same big Safety-Insuring Brakes. They act on a 15" drum with 2½" facings—more brake area per pound of weight than you find on other cars.

With four years' experience on the same basic design, with 250,000 cars in the hands of owners, Studebaker has perfected its system of brakes exactly as it has perfected and refined every other part of the car—into a perfect, smooth-working mechanism.

Leverages have been scientifically worked out, so that a touch of the Brake Pedal, or on the Emergency Brake lever, exerts great pressure on the Brake surfaces.

The Brakes are simply but perfectly equalized, so that the pressure on both wheels is exactly the same. No slipping of one wheel; no tendency to skid, due to unequal brake pressure; the instant stopping of the car in a straight line—thus your safety is insured to the maximum.

In short—good brakes on your car is perhaps really one of the most vital and necessary things in SAFE driving.

MEXICO WILL BUILD RAILWAYS AT ONCE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Mexico City, April 18.—Rapid and immediate extension of railroads in Mexico is projected by the Department of Communication and Public Works in conjunction with the various state governments. Arrangements have already been begun to complete the line from Santa Lucilla, on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec line, to Meridia, Yucatan. This line when completed will form the connecting link in the north and south route from Ciudad Juarez, on the American border, to Meridia. It will run through San Juan Bautista in Tabasco and Camacho. The state of Yucatan, one of the most prosperous in the republic will finance the new line in conjunction with various states of the country. This electric line, which was formerly controlled by a concession to foreign capital but the concession was declared forfeited because the holders failed to complete the work according to its terms.

Another projected line will connect the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of Mexico traversing the country from the Gulf of Mexico to the Gulf of California, to San Blas, state of Colima, formerly the territory of Tepic. Notice has been given by the Department of Communication to the Southern Pacific company that it must continue its line from Compostela to Guadalupe, according to its contract, and begin the work of construction at once, or the concession under which the company operates in Mexico will be declared void.

News Notes from Movieland

—BY DAISY DEAN—

Mary and Emma Gerhardt, two of America's most famous photographers and who are known throughout the world of camera art as the creators of "soul pictures" recently journeyed all the way from St. Louis, bringing with them their studio equipment to make special sittings of Mae Marsh.

"My sister and I have found Mae Marsh to be the most complex subject for whom we have ever arranged," she is a girl, simple and unadorned. Her naturalness and charm are quite remarkable indeed and yet, while imparting themselves to a photographic plate via the medium of our camera, we find ourselves gazing the next moment—still at a graceful, sweet young girl, but a girl with the wisdom of the ages in her eyes.

"She is a girl you see vividly with fire and spark and color in her every movement, and the next moment you see her through a haze as if some mythological goddess were peering through an incense-laden or protective screen behind which she had taken refuge. During my work with Miss Marsh I have had many talks and conferences with Mr. Hugo Ballin, the noted mural painter, who is giving his valuable capacities to Goldwyn, and we find ourselves in complete agreement about this remarkable young one. But we both wonder how any one can call her 'The Girl of 1,000 Faces.' She is a girl of thousands of faces. Never, as long as she lives, will she do two pictures alike, for her alert brain will ever carry her forward to pictorial achievements of which even now she is dreaming."

Director Richard Stanton engaged a rough-looking, bench-warmer, to play burglar in "Her Temptation." "Where's our crook?" asked Stanton the next day when the camera across the scene. "He's too true to the role," answered the assistant. "He's in jail."

Shirley Mason, star of a current serial, reports her cat has become a musician. When the animal crosses the piano keys in one direction the tune of "Home, Sweet Home" is heard. On the way back the cat plays "Chinatown."

of the age we are living in—they depict the hearts and the souls of the hour and show life in the rough state of its contemporary evolution. And in these scenes and surroundings he has brought an army of people who characterize every impulse of the different races that figure in their days. He has shown all this in order to make it clear that love is the dominant note which keeps alive the state of mankind. A score of wonderful theme to his epic illuminates the application with the message that only music can carry. This is why you will realize when you have seen "Intolerance" that he has created a new art form and done something for the drama which will live through ages to come. There will be a matinee on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

MYERS THEATRE.

"Twin Beds" here last Sunday. Selma, Field and Margaret Mayo's genial, rollicking comedy, "Twin Beds," comes to the Myers theatre next Sunday under the direction of A. S. Stern and company. York paid tribute to "Twin Beds" in an uninterrupted run of fifty-two weeks; Australia enjoyed it for six months and now London is reveling in it. The little play has been almost reached its second year there. The impetus of "Twin Beds" never rests. It begins with spirit and ends with spirit; each act has a new twist of fun, the complications are intensely fun, while the dialogue is thoroughly to the point. "Twin Beds" tells the story of three couples who live in a fashionable apartment house with apartments directly above each other, who begin by being merely neighbors, end by loathing the neighborliness they cannot escape, and finally, move to another part of town only to discover that their troubles are traveling with them. The play is a masterpiece of farce and comedy, and is being played by excellent and contributed by such well known players as J. Morrill Morrison, William Weston, Lois Alberici, Warren Hastings, Marguerite Risser, Antoinette Rothe, Elizabeth Stafford, Martha McGraw and others.

WILLIAM HODGE IN "FIXING SISTER."

After two seasons divided between New York, Boston and Chicago, William Hodge will include this city in a spring engagement in Lawrence Whitman's four-act blend of drama, comedy and farce entitled "Fixing Sister," coming to Myers Theatre for one night only, Tuesday, April 24th.

In his new play the distinguished star has achieved a complete triumph as he did through seven consecutive years in "The Man From Home," and his four others in "The Road to Happiness," "Of Fixing Sister," "The New York Globe" declared it is "every bit as good as 'The Man From Home'." The Chicago Daily News said: "A charming play beautifully staged, and the Rev. J. P. Brushingham, noted pastor of Chicago's South Park Avenue Church, said: 'It is a play every man, woman and child could and should see. It is a credit to the American stage.'"

In the cast surrounding Mr. Hodge is a capable company of players, including Miriam Collins, Jane Wheatley, Ida Varnum, Elvira, Charles Campbell, George Lund and thirty others.

MYERS THEATRE.

The presentation here for four days at the Myers Theatre starting Thursday night, April 26th, marks the first appearance in this section of the country of D. W. Griffith's colossal spectacle "Intolerance." Much has been written in preparation for this engagement but not one word of all the descriptive outlines can help but hint at the size and the sweep of this wonder work.

It is such a big undertaking and it has been carried out upon such a scale of magnitude that only a hint of it could be grasped until it has been seen. Griffith achieved his name in art history by daring achievements but in "Intolerance" he has outstripped himself. He has built towering walls just as they stood in ancient Babylon when Cyrus and his army took possession of that strem city of the ancient east. He has reared again the roadways, the streets and the houses in and about Jerusalem that were in the greatest story that has ever been recorded in the upbuilding of man. He has made Paris of the Sixteenth Century and the Court of Charles IX and his scheming mother bloom again like a symbolic green bay tree of dramatic art. And he has linked all this with scenes of current life that go deeper than mere outlin-

Mae Marsh.

Miss Gladys Brockwell, slender star, tried the experience of living on 25 cents a day. But she had to abandon it. "I began to get fat," reports the scientific Miss Brockwell.

Mary Miles Minter, youthful beauty, makes faces in her next movie, "Annie for Spite." She impersonates the plainest girl in town, but of course she becomes beautiful again before the play ends.

William Farnum plans to go to Hawaii soon for a vacation. He will travel on his own yacht, "Dustin Farnum," his brother, will accompany him.

Mrs. Pratt returned to her home in Stoughton having spent a couple of weeks at the home of her daughter.

FOUR GOOD BOUTS ON CARD TONIGHT; BIG CROWD GOING

Semi-Windup Thus Far Proves Biggest Attraction—Many Out-of-Town Fans to See Show.

Harry Schuster, Oakland, Cal., vs. Billy Manns, Cleveland, 10 Rounds—145 Pounds.

Young Kick, Rockford, vs. Battling, Bragg, Milwaukee, 8 Rounds—122 Pounds.

As good and perhaps better than the final bout.

Kid Meyers, Janesville, vs. Frank Rumer, Rockford, 6 Rounds—130 Pounds.

Battling Swann, Janesville, vs. Young Benas, Milwaukee, 4 Rounds—124 Pounds.

Local boxing enthusiasts are manifesting a lot more interest in the bout between Battling Bragg of Milwaukee and Young Kick of Rockford than they are in the Manns-Schuster battle which winds up the S. W. A. card of the night tonight. And from all indications the Bragg-Kick affair will be the best so far in the show.

Bragg and Kick have been maneuvering around for the past three months in the attempt for a battle but provisions to date there was always a hitch which kept them apart. It remained for the southern Wisconsin promoters to make the match. The bout will go eight rounds. The fighters arrived here this morning and this afternoon were weighed in at Abbott's. They entered the ring at 122.

Despite the attractiveness and the interest of the semi-windup, the current bout is sure to be of the class of those which have featured every exhibition staged by the S. W. A. A. Both Billy Manns of Cleveland and Harry Schuster of Oakland, Calif.

have been seen here before, and a pretty good bout on both the boys. Schuster this season, has been fighting out of Milwaukee and has made a wonderful showing. Manns has a good reputation as well as a hay-maker and considerable ring skill.

Kid Meyers is ready for Frankie Rumer of Rockford. Meyers has been working out in a local gym and his boxing partners claim that he's fit to show Rumer a few. The latter is clever and is a veteran at the game and to win over him the local lad will have to do some clever fighting.

The pair weighed in around 130 and will go over a six round bout.

Swann and Benas will open the show at 5:20 sharp. George Duffy, who has refereed the past shows of the local club, will be in the ring as arbitrator again. His work has been highly satisfactory and there has been no stalling when Duffy is in charge of things. He always makes them get busy when any lagging starts. The crowds have appreciated his work in the past and it has been mainly through his refereeing that the shows have been so successful.

Harry Wolter's attempt to come back as a major leaguer will be viewed with interest, particularly in New York. It is very infrequently that a player gets a chance to shine again in the majors after spending several seasons in the big leagues and then a few in the minors. It has been argued for years that Wolter was good enough for the majors.

Pittsburg fans are pulling strongly for Jimmy Calahan in his efforts to build up a winner in the Smoky City. It is a young team which Calahan is now campaigning and just the sort of club that furnishes the big surprises in baseball.

HIGH SCHOOL MEETS TO DETERMINE FATE OF TRACK THIS YEAR

Mass Meeting to Decide Upon Track Team for the Coming Season—Good Material at Hand.

Immediately after the close of school this afternoon students at the local high school held a meeting to decide upon the fate of track sports for this season. Provided enough interest is manifested by the student body as a whole, a track team will be organized at the school.

For the past three years Janesville has not been represented in this field, though in the old days the local boys brought home many records in the annual state meets. Last year a team was organized under the direction of an undergraduate coach, but interest soon waned and the sport was dropped after a few weeks of half-hearted attempts.

In the person of Ernest Phillips however, the school has a coach who is capable of developing any material into an event winning team, provided there is the backing of the school. Mr. Phillips, who is instructor in the department of American History at the high school, is an old high school athlete from South Side in Milwaukee, and also did a good deal of work with the track team at the University of Wisconsin. He knows track from A to Z, and is in a position to coach an undeveloped team in a most efficient manner.

All the physical equipment for a track team, such as hurdles, jumping standards, weights, etc., are on hand, and with a large number of likely men to draw upon, the fate of the team lies entirely with the students themselves.

As planned by Coach Phillips, as many men as possible will be brought out for training. A number of the faculty have volunteered their services to assist in the work of rounding these various class groups into shape for a big class meet, to be held early in the season. The men are expected to be ready at the time, arrangements will be made to send a team to the interscholastic meet at Madison, and dual meets with the state, with teams in this part of the state.

According to those who have followed athletics at the local school throughout the year, there is every reason to believe that some fast men can be developed out of the school, if the support of the school, in Crowley and Richards, Coach Phillips believes he has two men who can be developed into record dash men. Kenning is expected to show up well in the field events, and much is looked for from Billy Kober in the distance events. The track meets at the school have developed much likely material, which the school can draw on now.

"It's up to the school," said Coach Phillips this morning. "If they want a team, I believe we can give them one that will be a credit to Janesville; but if the team is not supported by the student body, and everyone does not come out for some event track will be a failure."

Twelve home games and eight road games for the Janesville team in the Central Wisconsin League are arranged in the schedule received this morning by President William Langdon, from the league officials at Fort Atkinson. In addition to the regular Sunday games as scheduled, there will be a number of exhibition games to be arranged on holidays. No definite contracts have been signed for these games, but it is expected there will be at least three such games: Decoration Day, July 4th and Labor Day. It is probable that two of these will be home games.

Manager Cole is at present endeavoring to secure a practice game with the Milton college team, to be played probably on a week day in the near future. Cole, with Mr. Langdon, is busy lining up players, and announces that within a week or so, they will be in a position to make public the names of many of the players. Until contracts have been signed with the men, the directors of the club believe it unwise to mention names. The fight for some players is strong between various cities of the league and other semi-pro teams in this part of the state.

Surplus articles about the house may easily be turned into cash by telling the people through the want ad columns.

WEST SIDE BOWLERS WIN FIRST GAME OF SERIES OF TEN WITH EAST SIDERS

West side bowlers last night won the first game of a series of ten to be played with bowlers from the east side of the river. Last night's battle was staged on the Newell and Platter alleys. The winners pulled through with a single pin to the good, collecting 2,857 against 2,856. The winners took a fair lead in the two opening games and for awhile it looked as if they were going to lose enough pins in the third to assure their defeat. The Main street bunch failed to deliver the one needed for the tie or the two for victory. Scores:

MORRIS MILLER

Major league scribes and scores no longer will have to bother with the name of Pichnich. Connie Mack has transferred the services of his catcher of that name to Atlanta of the Southern league. Pick is a pretty good catcher but not first division material according to Mack. Get that first division stuff?

The Chicago Cubs have returned Pitcher Rex Dawson to the Indianapolis club. He was the winning pitcher of the Indianapolis team last year and Manager Jack Hendricks feels safer with him back on his staff. Manager Mitchell of the Cubs believes he needs another season of minor league experience.

While the real and only one Ed Walsh is looking for a berth, the "another" Walshes continue to crop up. Now we hear that Frank Shenlenback, the Pacific coast semi-pro with the White Sox, is to be Walsh's successor. The chief reason for the "argument" seems to be that he can throw a spitball.

The Pittsburg battery of Schmitt and Schmitt has been broken up, and pitching end of it, Bill Schmitt, having been released by Manager Callahan.

han to Columbus of the South Atlantic league. Schmitt always will be remembered by Pittsburg players as the rookie who had to ask where first base was located.

Jack Barry lacks the aggressiveness which Bill Carrigan put into his playing, but withal he should prove as capable a leader as Carrigan was. Barry got his early schooling from Connie Mack and he saw victorious aggressiveness. Barry will have a more difficult task than Carrigan had, as his players have reached the stage where age will count heavily. It is a veteran team and cannot be expected to show as much speed as formerly.

Some major league clubs have outstanding pitching stars who make the pitching staff loom up strongly, but no manager has such an array of capable boxmen as has Bill Donovan. Shawkey and Caldwell are rated as stars, but Donovan has a good staff without including these two winning right-handers.

Frank Chance's Los Angeles club got away well in the Pacific Coast league championship race. The club won two of its first three games and is highly regarded as a pennant contender.

The release of Steve Yerkes to the Indianapolis club evidently means that Larry Doyle is again ready to play real baseball. There was some doubt as to whether he would ever be able to stick with a major league club after his serious accident last summer.

"If Jennings only had the pitcher's arm whenever the pennant chances of the Detroit Tigers are under discussion, Jennings has a great team except in pitching and his weakness may deprive the team of a pennant as in other years.

games of the Yankees indicates that his showing last season was no flash in the pan. Fans throughout the circuit are satisfied that Shawkey is one of the four leading pitchers in the American league.

The shortest players in the major leagues this year are Rabbit Maranville, shortstop of the Boston Braves, and Nemo Leibold, one of the outfielders of the Chicago White Sox. Both are 6 feet 5 inches tall and weigh just 150 pounds. Furthermore, they were born in 1892, and each began his professional career in 1911. Maranville, who wound up active work on the diamond last season, is 5 feet 4 inches tall. Eddie Foster of the Washington Senators, George Burns of the Philadelphia Phillies, George Blumenthal of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Casey Stengel of the Boston Red Sox, are all 5 feet 4 inches tall. While you smoke and AFTER you smoke—COMFORT!

Fatimas give you something else besides their good taste—something else that helps to explain why so many thousands and thousands of men stick to Fatimas in preference to other cigarettes.

That "something else" is cigarette-comfort—while you are smoking them and after you smoke them.

You don't care how good a cigarette may taste if, while you are smoking it, that cigarette burns your tongue or "catches" you in your throat! Fatimas have a good taste but they don't do that—they're comfortable!

Because Fatimas are such a delicately balanced blend of pure tobacco, they always leave you feeling fine and fit even though you may smoke more often than usual.

That's why they're so SENSIBLE.

Try Fatimas and prove for yourself how comfortable and sensible they are.
